EFFECTIVE CORPORATE GOVERNANCE WORKSHOPS

Customized deliverables for Board of Directors and Senior Management --whether in-house or off-site, at board meeting or one or two-day modules.

- Do your Directors know their roles and are effectively executing?
- What of the relationship between Board and Management?
- Has your Board been properly orientated and trained on the onerous task of directing?
- How is Board evaluation and succession planning?
- Do directors know their roles and responsibilities under revised Companies Act?

Vindel Kerr, ASc (CASE, Jamaica);
BSc (UWI, Trinidad);
MBA (Rutgers, USA);
Doctoral Candidate (Univ. Manchester, UK)

PROPOSED THEMES:

- Overview of Corporate Governance Development and Current Trends
- Global Corporate Governance Principles and Practices
- Board Orientation Issues
- Roles of the Board, CEO and Ministers
- Relationship Between Board and Management
- Board Effectiveness
- Board Evaluation and Compensation Models
- Succession Planning Issues
- Case Studies in Ineffective and Effective Corporate Governance Practices
- Role of the Board in Strategy

Vindel Kerr is first to have introduced corporate governance to the public sector of Jamaica, the first to institutionalise corporate governance at an academic institution in the Caribbean, the first Jamaican and Caribbean national to pursue a higher degree in this field of study and the first to have trained Government Ministers in the area. His books Effective Corporate Governance (2005) and Effective Board Stewardship for State-owned Enterprises and NGOs: A Training Manual for Company Directors (2004), are the first empirically-based publications about corporate governance by an author from a developing economy.
